secret development of the iphone

The journy to the iphone is full of interesting facts

The oridinal iphone's development was so secret that several apple employees were required to sign non-disclosure agreements and refer to the project

The iphone is improving music

In addition to making it possible for blind people to enjoy music,the iphone has helped musicians by allowing them to record and edit audio files without purchasing expensive equipment.

It has also allowed musicians to share their work online and connect with fans through social media.

The Power Of Touch

The iphone has changed our lives in ways we couldn't even imagine when it was introduced.

They also loved the fact that it had no buttons.this made it easy to use and allowed them to focus on what they wanted to do instead of right button.
